Chairman Pichini thanked Dr. Steve Hicks and Dr. Ken Mash for their comments.

Chairman Pichini provided recent changes to the Board membership. Senator Jeffrey E. Piccola retired from a long career in the Legislature, and Mr. C.R. “Chuck” Pennoni resigned from the Board in December 2012.

Chairman Pichini said several resolutions will be presented later in the meeting for the following: three student athletes who were recognized at the national level; Millersville University President, Dr. Francine G. McNairy, who will retire January 25, 2013; and Chancellor John C. Cavanaugh, who is leaving February 28, 2013, to take a new position in Washington.

Chairman Pichini stated the Board conducted several special meetings since the last quarterly Board meeting in October. Two of the meetings were to interview and hire new presidents.

Chairman Pichini mentioned PASSHE will have a new president at Mansfield University and Millersville University. Pending the arrival of the new presidents, Dr. Allan J. Golden continues to serve as interim president at Mansfield and Dr. James E. McCollum will serve as acting president at Millersville.

Chairman Pichini said the Chancellor Search Committee met with several consultants to begin the search for PASSHE’s next chancellor. Chairman Pichini mentioned the plan is to begin the process soon, which will involve reaching out to all of the various constituencies for their input.

Chairman Pichini said he attended the December commencement ceremonies at East Stroudsburg University and West Chester University.

Chairman Pichini acknowledged that it has been a very busy time for the Board and PASSHE and, as PASSHE prepares collectively for the start of the spring semester, it is imperative that the negotiations with the faculty union be addressed.

Chairman Pichini reinforced the Board of Governors’ commitment to achieve a new collective bargaining agreement with APSCUF that is fair, affordable, and positions the System to continue to provide a quality education to students for years to come. Chairman Pichini said this has been PASSHE’s goal throughout the unprecedented process, during which PASSHE has negotiated with all the unions in a single cycle. Chairman Pichini said PASSHE has been successful in achieving that goal with all of the unions, with the exception of the APSCUF bargaining unit that represents university faculty. Chairman Pichini said all of the agreements that have been reached to date have included an array of cost savings, in many cases, concessions, that have helped to offset the cost of wage and salary increases included in them. He thanked each of the unions for recognizing the enormous challenges facing the System and for partnering with PASSHE to achieve this success. Chairman Pichini said we must remember it is all about the students.

Chairman Pichini said the simple fact is, without the cost savings already achieved through the agreements reached to date and the additional savings the System is seeking through the negotiations with APSCUF, the ability of PASSHE universities to continue to offer quality, affordable education would be and is seriously threatened.

Chairman Pichini mentioned as difficult as these negotiations have been, PASSHE has been able to come to an agreement with APSCUF on a number of very important issues, including wage and salary increases for virtually all faculty this year and in each of the next two years.

Chairman Pichini confirmed there are a small number of issues that have yet to be resolved, but they are significant and PASSHE cannot continue to incur the kinds of cost increases it has been experiencing but must have cost savings. Chairman Pichini said healthcare represents an area where both cost savings and greater fairness to our employees can be achieved has been done with the other unions.

Chairman Pichini mentioned PASSHE is seeking to closely align its healthcare plan with the plan offered by the Commonwealth to nearly 80,000 state employees, including the Governor and his cabinet, as well as nearly one-third of all PASSHE employees. Chairman Pichini said PASSHE has stated this goal repeatedly throughout the negotiations, and has been completely transparent on this matter, even placing a side-by-side comparison of the two plans on PASSHE’s public website. He said the unions representing both PASSHE’s university health center nurses and campus police and security officers, whose members are covered by the PASSHE-run plan, have agreed to this concept. APSCUF continues to oppose it, without providing any response as to why this is not a reasonable request.

Chairman Pichini affirmed the changes PASSHE proposed would ensure that virtually all PASSHE employees, including nonrepresented managers, administrators, and executives, would receive the same level of healthcare benefits, but also would result in lower premiums for everyone in the plan. Chairman Pichini said most PASSHE employees covered by the plan such as faculty, nurses, police and security officers, and nonrepresented employees pay either 15 percent or 25 percent of the total premium, depending on whether they participate in the System’s wellness plan.

Chairman Pichini mentioned PASSHE currently pays more than $15,000 a year for family coverage under this plan, compared to the Commonwealth plan for family coverage, which costs $10,140. PASSHE must address that disparity and begin to do so while ensuring greater fairness for all of PASSHE employees.
Chairman Pichini said the enormous financial obligation facing PASSHE in the area of annuitant healthcare also must be addressed, which if allowed to continue unchecked, threatens the System’s viability. That obligation currently stands in excess of $1.4 billion, nearly the equivalent of PASSHE’s annual operating budget.

Chairman Pichini acknowledged the Board of Governors has the ultimate responsibility for ensuring the fiscal integrity of the System and acknowledged that the vast majority of PASSHE’s costs, nearly 75 percent, are borne by the students and their families. Chairman Pichini said there is a limit to the amount of costs PASSHE can ask students to absorb, especially in areas that are not directly related to the classroom.

Chairman Pichini mentioned the change PASSHE has proposed in annuitant healthcare would begin to address these costs, while providing future employees the option of choosing a defined contribution plan to cover their future retiree healthcare expenses. Employees hired after July 1, 2013, could choose the defined benefit plan, which currently is provided to all eligible retirees. He said the employee would have a choice of either plan, similar to the choice they have now when selecting a pension plan. APSCUF opposes this proposed change, even though it would affect only future employees and would provide those employees an additional choice, while taking nothing away.

Chairman Pichini acknowledged these and other costs unrelated to the classroom, are threatening to strip the universities of their ability to develop and offer new programs students need; to maintain the ones they have now; and to modernize their academic facilities to ensure students receive the kind of educational experiences necessary to assure their success.

Chairman Pichini recognized the System must resolve these issues quickly and fairly so that everyone can get back to working together on what matters most: continuously enhancing the quality of education the students receive.

Chairman Pichini said the Board met in executive session Wednesday, January 23, 2013, from 2:52 p.m. to 4:50 p.m., to discuss personnel and legal matters.

Chairman Pichini turned the meeting over to Chancellor Cavanaugh for his remarks.

REPORT OF THE CHANCELLOR

Chancellor Cavanaugh welcomed everyone to the Board meeting. Chancellor Cavanaugh mentioned this would be his last Board meeting and thanked everyone for the opportunities while at PASSHE. He said he will miss the System and will carry a lot of personal relationships, experiences, and good memories to his duties in Washington, D.C.

Chancellor Cavanaugh said he is concerned for PASSHE as to what will happen in 20-25 years when students who are undergraduates in PASSHE’s universities come back as faculty members. Chancellor Cavanaugh questioned what they are going to come back to and how the System can do what must be done to make sure the place they come back to as faculty is the strongest system in the United States.
Chancellor Cavanaugh mentioned he attended the symposium at Shippensburg University where faculty discussed classroom innovations and ways PASSHE could be more supportive. Chancellor Cavanaugh asked how PASSHE can do that in a way that respects the need to be creative and to be able to make decisions about PASSHE’s own future. He questioned how everyone can work together to build a better System in a way that respects the collective bargaining unit. Chancellor Cavanaugh confirmed that is the kind of conversation PASSHE is capable of having every day, not only in meet-and-discuss meetings and not just at the bargaining table, but in the classrooms and in meetings on the campuses across the System.

Chancellor Cavanaugh mentioned the visits he made to all the campuses and based on conversations he had with students, faculty, and staff he is sure PASSHE is capable of working together. He said everyone is working for the same goal: to educate the students.

The Chancellor thanked the Board members for all their mentoring and guidance during his time at PASSHE. He also thanked the staff, presidents, and faculty who make the System what it is and provide a good experience for the student.

The Chancellor said he owes an incredible thank you to his wife, Dr. Christine Cavanaugh, without whom he wouldn’t get through the day. Chancellor Cavanaugh said they have a wonderful strong partnership and without her support he would not be able to do what he does to make the System a better place.

Chancellor Cavanaugh acknowledged the 118,000 students who made the smartest choice possible in higher education, choosing one of PASSHE’s 14 outstanding institutions. He said in his opinion PASSHE’s 14 universities are the best asset the Commonwealth has.

Chancellor Cavanaugh’s full report to the Board was provided by email. The report includes highlights of system and university activities and accomplishments over the last quarter. (Attachment #3)

Secretary to the Board
January 24, 2013 – Dr. Steve Hicks’, APSCUF President, comments:

I just wanted to frame why we are all here today. A new semester starts Monday, and we still have no agreement – 17 months later. Students and parents are worried. So are my colleagues – but they are worried about the longer run too. They are worried about quality education and multiple issues still on the table speak to that – distance education, class size and yes health care for new hires are factors in the quality of higher education we provide. It is supposed to be our joint endeavor to provide quality education. We are here to let you know that it’s important to us; I hope you take this message and help resolve this so we can continue to provide our students quality.
January 24, 2013 – Dr. Ken Mash’s, APSCUF Vice President, comments:

Thank you for the opportunity to speak to you today. My name is Ken Mash, and I am a political science professor at East Stroudsburg University. However, I speak to you today in my capacity as the Vice President of APSCUF and as the chair of the faculty negotiations team.

One and a half years ago, Governor Corbett signed off on contracts with the major statewide unions. The unions received modest wage increases in exchange for modest increases in contributions toward health care premiums. At a time of economic distress across the Commonwealth, the Governor called this compromise a "fiscally responsible" contract.

Months after the Governor signed that deal, your faculty were still confronting proposals from the PASSHE team that would have required 36 major concessions in our CBA. These negotiations were never fair.

Today we find ourselves in a situation where we, the faculty, have agreed to similar modest increases as the other major unions are receiving.

Yet, we are still being asked to make concessions that none of the other statewide unions have been asked to make. The Governor was fair with the other unions. We have still not been offered similar fairness.

The fact is that your negotiators have not been fair with us, and no number of op-ed pieces, press releases, and public statements emanating from this building can change that fact.

Faculty members do not want on strike. We want to teach. This is why the faculty team has shoved its frustration aside to return to the table more than forty times over a two year span. It is why we offered binding arbitration. It is why we offered a contract extension. It is why we have already agreed to concessions in the design of our health care plan. It is why some 500 hundred faculty, some of whom woke in the wee hours of the morning to come from as far away as Cal U and Edinboro, are standing in the cold today to ask for your help.

A year and a half ago Governor Corbett set the blueprint for a fiscally responsible fair agreement. The blueprint is there. Your faculty hopes that when we return to the table February 1, we will finally be treated fairly.

Thank you for your attention. And thank you to my colleagues both inside and out for their sacrifice today. Excuse me as I, once again, join my colleagues on the line.

1. Appropriateness to Mission

Millersville University of Pennsylvania (MU) proposes to create a new undergraduate Bachelor of Arts in Multidisciplinary Studies (MDST). The proposed curriculum, which is a direct response to changing social and marketplace realities, draws on existing departmental curricular strengths and affords students the opportunity to enroll in a program designed to match multi-disciplinary career interests with workforce needs.

The proposed MDST major is intended to meet the needs of returning adult learners, transfer students, and existing students seeking new curricular opportunities with a coherent yet flexible multidisciplinary curriculum.

Millersville University seeks to apply its traditional institutional strengths in meeting the educational and employment needs of the citizens of the Commonwealth. As an institution, MU shares the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (PASSHE) commitment to prepare students for diverse professional opportunities while remaining mindful of the need for curricular integrity, flexibility within learning and delivery options for students in higher education, and retention and graduation rates, found in programs of academic and national distinction. The proposed program is reflective of transformation as outlined in PASSHE’s Strategic Directions in that it provides MU with an opportunity to, “...expand programs and services designed to enroll, retain and graduate non-traditional students.” In addition, MU seeks to ensure that students graduate with the combination of knowledge and skills needed to succeed in their chosen careers. Given the dynamics of emerging workforce needs, MU anticipates that this major will not only benefit students who may be underserved, it will have tangible benefits for the Commonwealth as well. Combining creativity, flexibility, and academic rigor, the proposed major will create student-centered options for individuals majoring in and graduating from high-need academic programs that meet workforce needs.

Delivery methods will include face-to-face and online courses, as appropriate.

2. Need

The proposed program meets (student) market demands as well as workforce needs.

The following student markets that this program targets include:

- Adult re-entry students, including recent re-admits (numbers of transfer and non-traditional age students are both increasing).
  - Seventeen-and-a-half percent of PA adults ages 25-64 have some college but no degree (1,174, 146). Another 8.53 percent have an associate degree (570,475). Millersville University has seen a growth of non-traditional students in the past five years (14 percent to 16 percent).
• Community College transfer students with or without an earned associate’s degree (a population likely to grow as a result of Pennsylvania’s transfer legislation and the Prior Learning Assessment initiatives).
  o Harrisburg Area Community College’s Lancaster, York, Gettysburg, Lebanon, and Harrisburg campuses, which are located within less than an hour commute, enroll more than 19,000 students and comprise over 40 percent of MU transfer students.
• Current “undeclared” students or those changing majors seeking new educational directions that can be completed without increasing time to graduation.
  o 117 transfer students were undeclared in Fall 2011
• Honors students and other high-achieving students particularly attracted to pursuing challenging programs that cross traditional boundaries and provide innovative expertise and perspectives.
• Freshmen attracted by the flexibility that this program will provide.

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics projects that employment growth will be concentrated in interdisciplinary areas such as service-related industries, professional and business services, health care, scientific and technical consulting, computer systems design, and employment services.

The Pennsylvania CareerLink lists the following High Priority Occupations for PA (including the projected annual openings):
  • Medical and Health Services Managers (511)
  • Sales Representatives (2041)
  • Compensation, Benefits, and Job Analysis Specialists (181)
  • Training and Development Specialists (339)

Regionally, CareerLink data for the Lancaster Local Workforce Investment Area reflect similar statewide demand as outlined below:
  • Medical and Health Services Managers is projected to grow 9.4 percent through 2016 and provide 25 annual openings.
  • Sales representatives, including scientific and technical, is also an area of regional growth producing 100 annual openings.

Additional annual openings for the Lancaster and surrounding regions, followed by annual openings:
  • Cost Estimators (115)
  • Insurance Sales Agents (88)
  • Training and Development Specialists (72)
  • Insurance Underwriters (43)

To illustrate how a student might use the proposed MDST major to align with their particular career trajectory in accordance with the above workforce needs, the following multi-disciplines might be chosen:
  • A selected science discipline (biology, chemistry, earth science, or physics) track combined with the Business Management track for those interested in careers as Medical and Health Services Managers;
• The Applied Engineering Technology Management track and the Entrepreneurship track might be selected for those interested in careers as Cost Estimators.

3. Academic Integrity

The 120 credit-hour curriculum is divided into three constituent parts: The MDST major which comprises 39 credits; General Education requirements of 45 credits; and 36 credits of Electives. The 39 credit major requirements includes two Core Program Tracks consisting of 18 credits each (which can be likened to choosing two focused minors) and a three credit faculty-directed Capstone Experience Course.

National data on the importance that employers place on critical skills (written and oral communication, critical thinking and analytic reasoning, applied knowledge in real-world settings, complex problem solving, and ethical decision making) support that the requirements for this program will prepare students with the skills they need to succeed in the 21st century workforce.

Content integration, academic rigor, and learning across disciplines are key attributes of the major. Curricular flexibility will be augmented by careful faculty advisement to align career interests with workforce needs as well as assure timely graduation. Rigor is embedded in defined levels of course work and learning outcomes leading to the integrative capstone experience. The subject/discipline specific learning outcomes are derived from existing learning outcomes for the disciplines comprising the new program. Additional learning outcomes in liberal education and integrative learning will be assessed using rubrics specifically tailored to the major.

The proposed major has four clearly-articulated objectives and accompanying indicators. The objectives are:

• Students will be able to accomplish broad intellectual inquiry and meaningful integration of knowledge in a degree that reflects their individual interests and skills.
• Students will be provided with a coherent yet flexible multidisciplinary curriculum.
• Students will be able to acquire (on a continuing basis) knowledge in broad categories of intellectual, artistic, and scientific fields, and understand the relationship between these areas of knowledge.

The overall management of the program will be the responsibility of the Program Coordinator (a faculty member) with oversight by the MDST faculty curriculum committee. The Program Coordinator will report to the Associate Provost for Academic Administration in a model that has worked very successfully with MU’s University Honors College.

The proposed curricular design allows students and faculty to craft customized programs to respond to emerging workforce needs in areas such as those listed in the Need section of the Executive Summary. To give an idea of what additional MDST majors might look like, the following list of potential Core Program tracks and an associated occupational area are provided:
• Health Sciences and Business (healthcare administration)
• Special Education and Social Work (disability and human services)
• Earth Science/Hydrology and Business (Water Resource Management)
• Business Marketing and Foreign Languages (International Business)
• Social Work and Spanish (social services with immigrant populations)
• Science discipline and art (scientific illustration)
• Science discipline and journalism (science journalism)

Program requirements are aligned with existing University standards and its mission and goals as a regional public university.

4. Coordination/Cooperation/Partnerships

Ten PASSHE institutions offer undergraduate majors under the category of “Interdisciplinary Studies,” “General Studies,” or “Liberal Studies.” Though these programs vary in requirements and curricular components, they share an intentional emphasis on reaching across existing departmental and programmatic boundaries. More than 2,000 PASSHE students are enrolled in these majors. Millersville University’s proposal builds on the university’s own curricular and programmatic strengths, but also recognizes that students may craft novel programs by accessing specialized courses at other PASSHE institutions (especially online). It is inherent in the nature of such programs that success can be achieved only through purposeful coordination across the entire campus. It is also anticipated that many students in the program will fulfill their capstone requirement through community-based research and service, which will further connect Millersville students and faculty to needs in the local community.

5. Assessment

Formal and informal assessment of learning outcomes will occur throughout the program of study. The learning outcomes comprise both discipline-specific content (derived from the associated fields of study) and extended liberal arts learning outcomes (derived from the American Association of Colleges and Universities (AACU) Values Rubrics, particularly the rubric on “Integrative Learning”). The initial interview in which the student presents their rationale, need, and curricular plan; the exit interviews with the Coordinator; and the capstone presentation and evaluation by the Curriculum Committee, will provide opportunities to measure students’ abilities to: 1) make connections across disciplines; 2) integrate knowledge, methodologies and solve complex problems; 3) understand the context(s) of intellectual and social issues; and 4) connect experiences with academic fields of study.

The Program Coordinator will have responsibility for leading the five-year program review, including strategic planning, the self-study, and external review.

6. Resource Sufficiency

Implementation of the new major will utilize existing courses, minors and concentrations already established within academic units. The only direct additional costs will be a partial reassignment for a tenured faculty member to serve as Program Coordinator and the costs of additional independent study credits for those who use this route to... satisfy the capstone requirement. Student demand for additional courses resulting from this program will be met using program revenues.

The required resources are relatively small as no new courses, or faculty, are required to offer this program.

7. Impact on Educational Opportunity

This proposed major is grounded in MU’s shared commitment that more students (both traditional and non-traditional) can benefit from a high-quality baccalaureate degree that affords increased curricular flexibility that honors students’ past educational achievements, aligns with their current career passions, and meets current and emerging workforce demands. The diversity of the student body will be further enriched by increasing enrollments of returning adult students, transfer students, and honor students.

ENROLLMENT

| Full-time Headcount Enrollment | Estimate by year 3 that 9 existing students (students who would otherwise be here) will declare major (1 freshman, 3 sophomores, 5 juniors) and 4 new or saved students will declare major (1 freshman, 1 sophomore, 2 juniors). Average retention rates between years are used to compute progressions and total enrollments. |
| Part-time Headcount Enrollment | All part time students are assumed to be new enrollments. Estimates of total are conservative: by year 3, 5 new sophomores and 10 new juniors/seniors will declare annually. Average retention rates (correcting for lower credit count) between years are used to compute progressions and total enrollments. |
| Projected Annual Credits Generated | Credits are calculated using 15 credits/semester for full time enrollments and 7.5 credits per semester (average) for part-time enrollments. |
Executive Summary of New Degree Program Proposal
Bachelor of Science in Community Health Education
Mansfield University of Pennsylvania

January 23, 2012

1. Appropriateness to Mission

The Health Sciences Department at Mansfield University of Pennsylvania proposes a new Bachelor of Science (BS) degree in Community Health Education that is designed to prepare graduates who will promote the health of individuals and communities in the region and the nation. Although the Mansfield University of Pennsylvania (MU) program will emphasize rural health issues, graduates will be prepared to work in a variety of health-related settings. Health educators work in medical settings, colleges and universities, public health departments, nonprofit organizations, and private businesses. Entry-level health educator positions generally require a bachelor’s degree.

Professional health educators encourage healthy lifestyles and wellness by educating individuals and communities about behaviors that can prevent diseases, injuries, and other health problems. According to the American Association for Health Education, the purpose of health education is to promote, “...the health behavior of individuals and communities as well as the living and working conditions that influence their health.” By focusing on prevention, health education reduces the financial and human costs that individuals, employers, families, insurance companies, medical facilities, communities, the state, and the nation would spend on medical treatment.

The proposed Mansfield University Community Health Education program is aligned with the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (PASSHE) Strategic Directions as well as Mansfield University’s Mission and Strategic Plan in that its graduates will serve others and improve individual and community health. It will support efforts to place the highest priority on the betterment of our students and the citizens of the Commonwealth. It facilitates higher incomes of graduates as well as improved health outcomes for Pennsylvanians. The program also directly supports the Pennsylvania Department of Health’s mission, “...to promote healthy lifestyles, prevent injury and disease, and to assure the safe delivery of quality health care for all Commonwealth citizens.” Achieving such goals requires the teamwork of various health practitioners working with educators and community health specialists.

2. Need

The World Health Organization (WHO) indicates a growing need for health educators on a global perspective. The global health workforce is facing a severe workforce crisis with critical shortfalls. Data signify that there is a national, state, and regional need for health educators. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics indicates that employment of health educators is expected to grow by 37 percent, which is faster than the average for all occupations through 2020. According to the PA Center for Workforce Information and Analysis, there were 40 job openings advertised online for health educators on January 9, 2012 alone. There were also 665 job openings advertised online for the... related occupation group of community and social service workers in Pennsylvania on the same date. The Center further predicts that the long-term growth for Health Educators in Pennsylvania will be substantial. According to the US Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Philadelphia area, from which MU draws many of its students, has one of the highest employment levels for this occupation.

Regionally, the healthcare community is undergoing major changes outside of healthcare reform. Laurel Health System (LHS, based in Tioga County) has merged with the larger Susquehanna Health System (based in Lycoming County). This merger will bring new opportunities into the region, as the two healthcare systems work together to bring more coordinated care to the area. Increased access to top medical specialists, expansion of services in local communities, and the establishment of a community health foundation are among the major benefits of the new partnership. Community health improvement will be another area of focus. According to the LHS, one of the most significant, positive benefits of this partnership will be the creation of The Laurel Health Foundation, a $21 million resource for long-term financial support of healthcare in Tioga County. In addition, LHS will work cooperatively with other resources in the community such as the Partnership for Community Health to improve the health status of the residents of Tioga County.

A partial list of agencies and specific organizations that employ graduates with degrees in community health education are listed below with some examples of job titles (in addition to Community Health Educator) in parentheses:

- Area Agencies on Aging
- Chesapeake Energy (Health and Wellness Educator)
- Child Development Centers (Family Health Counselors)
- Community or Regional Health Centers (Health Educators or Counselors; Director of Health Promotion, Education, and Outreach)
- Community Health Partnerships (various community health educator positions)
- County (& other Government) Human Resource Departments (Wellness Coordinator)
- Fitness Centers (Personal Health Coaches)
- Health System Wellness Centers
- Health Maintenance Organizations
- Health Insurance Companies (Health and Wellness Coach)
- Hospitals and Community health Departments (On-Call Health Educators)
- Home Health Care/Hospice Organizations
- Humana (Health Educators)
- Long-Term Assisted Living Facilities
- Nursing Homes
- Nutrition Clinics (Patient counselors)
- Public Health Departments (Community HIV Educator)
- Rural Health Clinics
- Universities (Student Health Promotion Specialists, Assistant Directors of Student Health)
- Veterans Administration Hospitals & Health Centers (Health Educators)
Research indicates that the challenges faced by health care providers and patients in rural areas are often different from those in metropolitan areas. Economic factors, cultural and social differences, educational limitations, lack of recognition of rural health issues by policy makers, and the isolation of living in remote settings all add to the challenge of leading a healthy lifestyle in rural America where prevalence rates for many diseases are higher than in metropolitan areas. According to the National Rural Health Association, only about 10 percent of physicians practice in rural America despite the fact that nearly one-fourth of the population lives in rural settings. Rural residents tend to be poorer. Abuse of alcohol and use of smokeless tobacco are significant problems among rural youth. Rural residents have higher rates of some chronic illnesses. Because it can be difficult to obtain care, health problems in rural residents may be more serious by the time they are diagnosed. The rural health educator can bridge that gap by communicating to the providers the needs of community members, providing quality health promotion and disease prevention information to community members, and serving as an information link between their communities and providers to increase appropriate utilization of available preventive health services.

Supporting letters attached to the full proposal document the strong potential for employment of program graduates in regional healthcare systems that serve northern Pennsylvania and the southern tier of New York. Letters of Support include: Laurel Health System, Arnot Health, and Guthrie Healthcare System to include Troy Community Hospital.

3. Academic Integrity

The 120 credit hour program has clearly identified program objectives and articulated student learning outcomes. The curriculum aligns well with Board of Governor’s related Academic Policies.

The goals of the federal Healthy People 2020 plan and principles of rural health are used as a foundation for the Community Health Education curriculum. Program graduates will be prepared to sit for the Certified Health Education Specialist (CHES) exam. The CHES examination is a competency-based instrument used to measure possession, application, and interpretation of knowledge in the seven areas of responsibility for health education specialists.

The program has two overarching goals:

- Prepare graduates who will promote the health of individuals and communities in the region and the nation.
- Provide an environment that promotes excellence and professionalism, and a commitment to lifelong learning for students and faculty.
Student learning outcomes are fully aligned with the seven Certified Health Education Specialist (CHES) certification exam competencies:

- Assess the need for health education for individuals, communities, and health professionals.
- Identify factors that promote or hamper relevant learning by individuals, communities, and health professionals.
- Plan health promotion programs for health professionals and the public (individuals and communities) using evidence-based strategies.
- Implement health promotion programs for health professionals and the public (individuals and communities) using evidence-based strategies.
- Evaluate health promotion programs for health professionals and the public (individuals and communities) using evidence-based strategies.
- Practice as a health educator within professional, legal, and ethical guidelines.
- Serve as a health education resource professional.

4. Coordination/Cooperation/Partnerships

The program is primarily face-to-face and community-centered in its delivery. It complements and shares resources across Mansfield University’s health-related areas of study. However, there may be opportunities to share online courses in health and health education with other PASSHE universities. The program is designed to have cross and interdisciplinary aspects, which is viewed as a particular strength. Mansfield University has long-standing relationships with local health care organizations to place students in field experiences. These include the Tioga County Partnership for Community Health, the North Central PA Area Health Education Center (AHEC), the Guthrie Health System, and the Laurel Health System (now becoming a part of the Susquehanna Health System). Coordination, cooperation, and partnership within the program and across the region are essential components of the university’s health care education initiatives.

5. Assessment

Assessment of learning outcomes is an integral part of a continuous improvement process for the proposed program. Student learning outcomes are well defined at both the program and course levels. Relevant data will be collected from course assignments, including examinations, analysis of case studies, specific written assignments, papers, and presentations embedded in courses. Well-defined rubrics will be used by faculty to assess the evidence related to each learning outcome. Faculty will be expected to show how the curriculum supports the seven areas of responsibility and competencies of the National Commission for Health Education Credentialing professional standards. They also must indicate how well student learning outcomes were met, what assignments and teaching techniques were used, and what course improvements were made based on outcome data as part of the program’s annual report. All programs are required to report annually to the Dean and Provost on assessment of learning outcomes and improvement actions taken if deficiencies in meeting student-learning outcomes are identified.

The Society for Public Health Education (SOPHE) and the American Association for Health Education (AAHE) have formed a Baccalaureate Program Approval Committee.
(SABPAC) as a joint committee of the two organizations. Mansfield University will pursue approval from this recognized committee as the program is implemented.

6. Resource Sufficiency

No additional facilities or equipment are needed to begin implementation of the program. The Department of Health Sciences and several other relevant departments noted in the full proposal already have faculty qualified to instruct relevant courses, and most of the classes necessary for the curriculum are already in place. Five additional courses will be introduced to complete the curriculum over a multi-year period. An additional tenure-track faculty member will be hired to teach in the Nutrition Program if the proposal receives approval. The budget projection and narrative that follows on pages 4 and 5 clarifies the resource efficiency of the proposed program.

7. Impact on Educational Opportunity

The program will provide an important curricular option for all students, including those targeted in Mansfield’s increased diversity recruitment efforts. Mansfield University attracts a diverse and often underserved student population. Forty-seven percent of students are from low income families, and forty-three percent are first-generation students. The program will be of interest to our numerous first-generation students as a clear pathway to an attainable career goal. This program will substantially increase opportunities for both the region’s rural students and the growing number of minority students attracted to Mansfield University.

Termination—the permanent removal of an employee from employment with the State System of Higher Education.

F. Employee Discipline

1. Appointing authorities may discipline employees for inadequate performance, up to, and including, termination.

2. The appointing authority may place an employee on an interim suspension without pay without prior notice and an opportunity to be heard, provided that written notice of the basis for the interim suspension and other contemplated action, and an informal opportunity to be heard with respect thereto, is afforded to the employee within a reasonable time thereafter.

3. An employee may be suspended not more than 30 days pending investigation of the employee’s fitness to remain in employment. If no cause for disciplinary action is found, then the action shall be purged from the employee’s personnel file and any lost pay and benefits retroactively restored. If cause is found, then the suspension, if appropriate, may be converted to disciplinary action.

4. Furlough does not constitute disciplinary action. Decisions and actions resulting in the furlough of employees are not reviewable under this policy.

G. Notice to Employee

1. Notice Prior to Discipline. Before any final determination is made to discipline an employee, the appointing authority shall provide the employee with advance written notice of the potential basis for the contemplated action, as well as an informal opportunity to be heard with respect thereto. Following such written notice and informal opportunity to be heard, the appointing authority shall make its final determination in the matter.

2. Notice of Discipline. Notice of termination, including termination by abandonment, involuntary demotion, suspension, or any other disciplinary action issued to employees, shall include a clear statement of the reasons sufficient to apprise the employee of the nature and grounds upon which the action is based.

H. Review of the Appointing Authority’s Notice of Final Discipline

1. Timeliness and Form. An employee covered by the scope of this policy and alleging a violation may request a review of the appointing authority’s notice of final discipline. This request must be made in writing not more than 20 calendar days after the appointing authority has given notice of the discipline. The employee shall state clearly and concisely the grounds for the appeal, the facts relied upon to support the appeal, and the relief the employee seeks. When the appointing authority is a university, an employee alleging a violation of this policy may request review by the chancellor. When the appointing authority is the chancellor, an employee alleging a violation of this policy may request review by the Chair of the Board of Governors.

2. Dismissal. Requests for review that do not conform to the requirements stated in this section may be dismissed without a review.

3. Violations. With regard to any violation of this merit principles policy, so long as such violation would not constitute a violation of the applicable laws or provisions of the constitutions of the United States or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, such violation shall not, in and of itself, constitute a basis for the reversal or invalidation of any decision regarding disciplinary or other adverse action taken by any appointing authority. In the event that violation is also a violation of an applicable provision of federal or Commonwealth law or constitutional provision, the remedy intended by this merit principles policy is not to in any way be construed as in excess of the remedy that would otherwise be required by the applicable law or constitutional provision.

I. Review

The chancellor or his/her designee shall provide a written explanation of the reason for the final decision to the employee. Prior to issuing a final determination, the chancellor or his/her designee shall conduct a hearing for university employees and the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors shall do so for Office of the Chancellor employees.
J. Special Rules of Hearing Procedures

1. Procedure. Hearings shall conform to the procedural requirements of the Administrative Agency Law, 2 Pa.C.S.A § 101 et seq.

2. Conduct of Hearings. The chancellor or his/her designee shall conduct hearings for university employees and the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors shall do so for Office of the Chancellor employees who appeal a decision or action taken by the chancellor. The chancellor and Executive Committee are hereby authorized to retain hearing officers to conduct hearings and issue recommendatory adjudications.

3. Burden of Proof. In cases involving discipline, the appointing authority shall have the burden of proof and the burden of going forward to establish its case by a preponderance of the evidence. Where an employee makes a claim of discriminatory action as the basis for discipline, the employee shall have the burden of proof and the burden of going forward to establish a prima facie case. If the prima facie case is established by the employee, the burden shall then shift to the appointing authority to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that discipline was imposed for a non-discriminatory reason.

4. Order of Hearings. Hearings shall be conducted according to the following procedure:
   a. The party having the burden of going forward shall present its case, utilizing witnesses and such other evidence as may be relevant to establish a prima facie case.
   b. At the conclusion of the moving party’s case-in-chief, the presiding officer, upon motion or in response to an opposing party’s motion to dismiss, shall determine whether the party has met its burden.
   c. If the party has met its burden, the opposing party shall then present a defense or otherwise rebut the moving party’s case by such evidence as may be relevant. At the conclusion of both presentations, the presiding officer may allow each party to present such other evidence as may be relevant. Each party shall be allowed reasonable cross-examination of the opposing party’s witnesses.

5. Standard of Proof. The standard of proof shall be that of a preponderance of evidence. The term “preponderance of evidence” shall mean evidence sufficient to convince a reasonable mind that a matter is more likely than not true.

6. Evidence. The parties shall not be bound by the formal rules of evidence in the adjudication of cases; however, all evidence must be inherently reliable to qualify for admission to the record of the case. Hearsay evidence shall not be used to establish any material fact.

7. Discovery. The employee shall have the opportunity to review his/her personnel file and any documentation that was used for, or to support, the disciplinary action at issue. There shall be no other discovery.

8. Motion Practice. Motions shall be considered for the following purposes, but not limited to:
   a. dismissing complaints for lack of timeliness, failure to state a violation of policy, or lack of specificity;
   b. requesting a continuance, extension, or other delay of proceedings;
   c. seeking relief or clarification concerning any other procedural matter; and
   d. issuing of subpoenas duces tecum.

9. Pleadings and Exhibits
   a. All briefs and motions shall be typewritten and double spaced on 8½ x 11-inch paper with a one-inch margin, and shall be limited to 50 pages. Case captions and attorneys’ addresses and telephone numbers shall appear on all pleadings.
   b. Pleadings and exhibits in which factual matters are averred shall be signed by the party filing it.
   c. Pleadings shall be filed in duplicate with the prothonotary, accompanied by certificates of service.
   d. An electronic copy of all pleadings and exhibits (if practicable) shall be provided to all parties.

10. Service of Pleadings. The Request for Review shall be submitted via first class U.S. Postal Service. All other pleadings may be served by personal service; first class U.S. Postal Service; facsimile; or via electronic mail (email).

11. Representation. Employees may represent themselves or be represented by attorneys. Attorneys shall file praecipes of appearance.

K. Implementation

The chancellor and Executive Committee may make such rules as may be necessary to implement this policy.
L. Supersession

Except as otherwise provided, these procedures supersede the General Rules of Administrative Practice and Procedure, 1 Pa. Code § 31.1 et seq.

M. Witnesses and Production of Evidence

The Board of Governors or its designee may compel the appearance of witnesses and production of evidence by subpoenas duces tecum in accordance with § 520 of the Administrative Code of 1929, 71 P.S. § 200.

N. Leave for Attendance at Hearings

Any employee who is required to attend a hearing during his/her working hours shall be granted civil leave by the appointing authority.

O. Effective Date

This amended Policy is effective July 1, 2013.

The Chancellor is responsible for the development and maintenance of business process and procedures for the effective administration and management of this policy. The Chancellor shall report biannually to the Board of Governors Human Resources Standing Committee regarding the status of the development and maintenance of the business process and procedures.

Compensation - Pay for services rendered.

Benefits - Programs used to supplement the cash compensation that employees receive, including but not limited to social insurance, medical insurance, and leave.

C. The Program

Total Rewards

PASSHE is committed to providing compensation, benefits, and other employee programs that enable the organization to attract, motivate, develop, and retain the best talent necessary to achieve the mission and strategic initiatives of the Office of the Chancellor and PASSHE universities. In order to accomplish this PASSHE will do the following:

- Determine the market valuation of jobs by using a market competitiveness based compensation program in which the Office of the Chancellor and universities:

  - Compare our positions with comparable jobs by using appropriate benchmarking processes, which compare total compensation (direct and indirect pay and benefits) for similar jobs to peer organizations within the regions where PASSHE competes for talent, or national comparison when appropriate;

  - Balance the need to attract, motivate, develop, and retain talented employees with our mission; and

  - Monitor and manage internal and external equity concerns.

- Reward employee performance that supports the mission of the institution within a pay-for-performance philosophy.

Performance Management and Work-Life Experience

Employees who are recognized, rewarded, and appreciated for their performance are more productive and provide greater organizational value. Higher levels of performance are encouraged through:

- Using a performance management and employee development process that communicates performance expectations, standards of performance, is developmental at its core, and is an ongoing process of employee and supervisor communications.

- Using employee recognition, via formal and informal recognition programs.

• Developing and broadening career opportunities within PASSHE by creating learning opportunities that assist employees in growing within their career paths.

• Encouraging employees to partner in community-citizen developmental experiences that benefit the employee, the community, and PASSHE.

D. Effective Date

This amended Policy is effective immediately.
A. Purpose

In order to promote a systematic analysis for improvement of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (PASSHE) and to meet performance expectations and requirements of the Board of Governors (hereinafter Board), an evaluation system for the assessment of a Chancellor’s leadership, performance and development is established. The purpose of evaluating the Chancellor is to assess the quality and substance of administrative performance in the context of the PASSHE mission, vision and strategic goals. The role of the Chancellor is complex and diverse. Accordingly, the performance evaluation process must reflect this role and scope of a Chancellor’s administrative duties and the Board’s expectations while fostering and encouraging professional growth and development in professional competence and leadership, not only for the Chancellor, but also for the System as well.

1. Annual evaluation of performance promotes accountability

   The annual evaluation establishes accountability for a Chancellor’s decisions. While administrative decisions are, in part, governed by Act 188, PASSHE and Board policies, other factors that drive these decisions include legal limitations, ethical obligations and economic realities. The actions of the Chancellor are integral to the success of PASSHE and the persons affected by PASSHE – students, faculty, staff, the community, trustees, alumni and supporters.

2. Annual evaluation provides an objective context for assessing performance

   The various roles of the Chancellor are part of a much larger framework, thus they are embedded within PASSHE. Actions taken by the Chancellor have important and long-term impact as to how the System operates and affects constituencies.
3. Annual evaluation promotes and strengthens effective leadership

Leadership should be based on demonstrated results. Annual evaluation, when conducted, increases understanding and appreciation for the Chancellor’s tasks and accountability for the outcomes.

4. Annual evaluation provides systematic evidence of effectiveness

Annual evaluation provides an orderly and structured process for gathering objective evidence about performance. The evaluation should be based on well-defined criteria that include process and outcome data. Systematic methodology clearly specifies who will evaluate the Chancellor, when the evaluation should be conducted and in what manner. In addition, the evaluation framework specifies how evaluation results will be disseminated and used.

5. Annual evaluation provides a means for determining PASSHE goal achievement

Development of PASSHE requires effective leaders who embrace and promote its vision, mission and goals. By focusing at least in part on performance outcomes, the evaluation process requires that System goals be periodically reviewed and progress toward those goals be detailed.

6. Annual Evaluation provides a means for leadership development

Development of the Chancellor is a key outcome of the evaluation process. The growth and development of the Chancellor have benefits for the individual and PASSHE. The development plan should be based on opportunities derived from the evaluation process.

B. Evaluation Process

Upon the selection of the Chancellor and as part of the Chancellor’s orientation, the Board’s Executive Committee, led by the Chairperson, will explain the performance evaluation process. The Chairperson or designee will provide a summary of the process including, but not limited to, its purpose, participant roles and responsibilities, schedule, substance and procedures. The following is an explanation of the two types of performance evaluation and professional development plans that are to be conducted under this policy.

1. Annual Evaluation - This evaluation is conducted every year by the Board’s Chancellor Evaluation Committee consisting of at least three members of the Board, including the Chair of the Human Resources Committee, appointed annually by the Chairperson of the Board. The Chancellor Evaluation Committee will be supported by the staff of the Office of the Chancellor. The results of this evaluation are to be submitted to the Executive Committee, along with the Chancellor’s self-assessment, for consideration and action by the Board. At the conclusion of the evaluation process, the Chancellor shall receive the annual evaluation in writing from the Chairperson of the Board. The Chairperson will have the responsibility of disseminating the outcome of the evaluation process to constituents.

2. Triennial Evaluation - This process differs from the Annual Evaluation in that it is performed every third year and is supported by an external consultant from a list of approved experts maintained by the Office of the Chancellor’s procurement department. The Board’s Chancellor Evaluation Committee selects the consultant from this approved list to work in collaboration with the committee in conducting the Chancellor evaluation.

C. Roles and Responsibilities

Board Chairperson – The Chairperson of the Board is responsible for appointing the Chancellor’s Evaluation Committee, assuring the policy of the Board and all legal requirements are followed and the results are communicated to the Chancellor and appropriate constituents.

Chancellor – The Chancellor shall prepare a written self-evaluation of performance for the evaluation period. This self-evaluation shall report on achievement of, or progress toward achieving, the mission, goals and strategies that were agreed upon by the Chancellor, the Chairperson of the Board and the Executive Committee at the beginning of the evaluation period.

Chancellor Evaluation Committee – The Chancellor Evaluation Committee, consisting of three members of the Board appointed annually by the Chairperson of the Board shall, be responsible for conducting the annual evaluation of the Chancellor and the triennial evaluation of the Chancellor in conjunction with a consultant.

Consultant – The Board’s Chancellor Evaluation Committee will identify an experienced consultant to assist in the triennial evaluation process. The consultant’s role is to work with the Chairperson of the Board and the Chancellor Evaluation Committee in preparing an objective and thorough process based on this policy. In addition to supporting the performance evaluation process, the consultant may be asked to provide professional development and mentoring support to the Chancellor and/or Board.

Office of the Chancellor’s Liaison - A Chancellor’s Liaison will be appointed by the Board Chairperson to work with the Evaluation Committee. The Liaison will assist the committee in the performance review process, including the identification of constituents to engage in the process and participation as appropriate in the activities of the Committee.

D. Performance Goals and Indicators

At the beginning of each annual and triennial evaluation year, the Board Chairperson will outline individual and System performance goals with specific performance indicators reflective of PASSHE’s long-term strategic plan and goals. This will occur in consultation with the Board Chairperson and Executive Committee. This information will subsequently serve as a key element of the performance evaluation of the Chancellor.
During the year, the Chancellor is responsible for informing the Board Chairperson and the Executive Committee of his or her progress, any major changes as well as any operational or other issues that may impact the Chancellor’s ability to achieve the agreed upon goals. Prior to the end of the performance evaluation period, the Chancellor will complete a self-evaluation of his or her performance detailing individual, leadership team and PASSHE accomplishments and current PASSHE performance data.

E. Board of Governors’ Evaluation Committee Report

The Chancellor Evaluation Committee will prepare a summary report using performance data from the System Research Office, the results of the PASSHE evaluation process, verbatim compilation of constituent feedback and any additional evaluation data that may be available for the committee’s review. This written report will be submitted to the Board in accordance with a schedule approved by the Board Chairperson.

F. Evaluation Summary Prepared for Board of Governors Review

A complete evaluation summary will include:

- Annual PASSHE performance outcomes (System Accountability Reports);
- Board’s assessment of the Chancellor’s performance;
- The Chancellor Evaluation Committee's compilation of constituent feedback and evaluation of the Chancellor’s performance; and
- The Chancellor’s self-assessment.

The Board Executive Committee will review the completed evaluation of the Chancellor in making its decisions regarding the extension of the Chancellor’s contract and determining compensation.

G. Professional Development Plan

A key focus of the performance evaluation process is the continuing professional and leadership development of each Chancellor. In order to achieve this goal, the Board Chairperson, Human Resources Committee Chair and mentor (as appropriate) will create a confidential professional development plan with the Chancellor.

H. Chancellor Evaluation Review

Based on a timeline provided by the Board Chairperson, the Executive Committee will meet with the Chancellor to plan for the upcoming performance year and review the results of the current year’s performance evaluation.

I. Effective Date

This amended Policy is effective immediately.
