Remarks of Dr. Kenneth M. Mash
before the Board of Governors
June 30, 2015
Whither Cheyney University?

Chairman Pichini, Governors, Chancellor Brogan, University Presidents, and guests. I am Kenneth Mash, and I am the President of the Association of Pennsylvania State College and University Faculties.

A few Januarys ago, around the time of Dr. Martin Luther King’s birthday, a group of Cheyney faculty and I asked the members of the Board to pay closer attention to what was happening there. Cheyney University, its students, its faculty and coaches, its mission, and those students it could potentially serve have not left our minds. In fact, for decades the university has been at the forefront of APSCUF’s concerns. APSCUF leaders from decades ago have told me that it seems that little has changed at the university.

Cheyney University’s problems have been well documented. So well documented that legislators, members of the administration, and average people ask about it routinely. And people consistently ask, “Whose fault is it?”

“The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves.”

Too many have turned the other cheek. “They” have allowed things to occur at Cheyney that would not have been acceptable at other universities. “They” have allowed Cheyney students to not have the same opportunities as students at other universities. “They” have allowed the faculty to toil in conditions that would be intolerable at other institutions. That the students, faculty, coaches, and staff there continue to achieve, in some cases in remarkable ways, says something about the underlying spirit of that university. And it says something about a mission that cannot be left to die. “They” is, of course, “we.” We all bear responsibility for what has occurred at that university, for none of us should have rested. We have all failed that university.

I understand that the System has sent personnel and resources to Cheyney on several occasions for months on end. I understand that there has been intervention. But those interventions were mere band aids for broad, very serious systemic problems. I understand that the other universities have lent money to Cheyney and will, we hope, again do so. But forcing the university to continually operate under a dependency relationship without a plan for success is not a viable option.

I want to commend Chancellor Brogan and members of this Board for stepping up to the plate and facing the problems head on in a way that has not happened heretofore.

I do believe that he and members of the Board are intent on taking serious action. We have seen the letters that have gone out from the System, Cheyney, and West Chester. And part of it is encouraging. Collaboration truly is one of the great hallmarks of academia, and there is plenty of room for additional collaboration between those two great institutions; it should have been occurring for decades.
Yet APSCUF, outside associations, including national ones, and other interested persons who truly care about the institution are apprehensive. There is a tremendous difference between collaboration and takeover. There is a big difference between empowering an institution and reducing it down to irrelevance. We have questions about the plans, and we look forward to additional conversations.

We are well aware of those who would just as soon close Cheyney University. We are well aware of those who question whether a HBCU has relevance today. Setting aside the cynicism and potential covert racist overtones of those questions, let us all agree that Cheyney’s historic mission is as important today as it has ever been.

To deny Cheyney’s mission is to deny that the Commonwealth’s largest city cries out for a university that can nurture students and ease the path from secondary to higher education.

It is to ignore that there are countless people in the workforce who would like the opportunity to return to college to better their lives.

It is to ignore that that Philadelphia’s high school students need help gaining access to dual enrollment opportunities.

It is to ignore that there are opportunities there for advanced technical education.

It is to ignore the opportunities in that city and the surrounding area for articulation agreements with community colleges.

The list could go on….

Enormous potential exists to serve the citizens of the Commonwealth and we have a university ideally suited to work; that the university is underused is nothing short of tragic.

We look forward to the details of the plan. We look forward to answers. But the time has come to not dwell on failure. It is not time to think that saving money at that university is the path to success; institutions cannot save their way out of structural deficits.

The time is now is for bold thinking. It is time for us to embrace even more of Cheyney’s mission. It is time for us to see the university for what it is – a tremendous resource for the Commonwealth.

If we fail to do so, the fault, dear Chancellor, Mr. Chairman, Governors, University Presidents, Governor Wolf, Members of the General Assembly, will lie, not in our stars, but in ourselves.

Dr. Pogue:

First, let me thank you for providing the extensive information you compiled for your Sustainability Plan for Cheyney University. The following is my perspective on the highest priorities contained within your document, which will help to guarantee the development and implementation of significant and substantial change in the next 12 months. You will agree that it is urgent that Cheyney University, the nation’s oldest HBCU, determine its long term viability in terms of size (student enrollment, facilities and academic offerings) and how it meets its obligations in the following areas:

Ensure the academic program array builds on program quality and current and emerging market demands

- Three general academic clusters appear to be key themes: Natural Sciences/Math, Professional Programs, and Education:
  - 18 Undergraduate majors
  - 12 Undergraduate minors
  - 5 Graduate majors
- Review each existing program based on degree productivity, course offerings, faculty resources, and market need. Eliminate under-enrolled programs through program consolidation and closure.
- Identify 3 new applied and professional academic programs to be developed in 2015-2016 that leverage existing academic program strengths (courses and faculty) and market interest (e.g., criminal justice, actuarial science, and a graduate program in the sciences).
- Revise the general education program for clarity, coherence, and relevance.

Build enrollment management capacity

- Build expected university enrollments (on-campus and in Center City) around key academic programs by recruiting and retaining academically qualified students (e.g., 700 for 2015-16; 800 for 2016-17).
- Expand Keystone Honors Academy enrollments as a strategy to rebrand Cheyney University around its academic quality.
- Continue to outsource student financial aid (Financial Aid Services-FAS), the re-installation of PowerCampus enterprise software (Ellucian), and explore solutions external to Cheyney with the capacity for effective student administrative and support services.

Implement a new business model for efficient and effective administrative operations aligned with university needs (size and scope) Analyze each business function to determine the most effective delivery method (outsourced, in-sourced to another State System university). For example:
   o Student Health Services
   o Housing and Dining Hall Services
   o Fiscal Management Operations
   o General Administration and Logistical Services—Human Resources, Purchasing, Police, Safety, etc.
   o Operations and Maintenance of Plant

Collaborative opportunities

As is the case with many universities (public and private) across the country more collaboration will be necessary to enable implementation of significant and substantial change at Cheyney University (e.g., academic program offerings, facilities usage, and shared services).

Urgency

Coming to terms with an actionable plan for Cheyney’s continued long term viability is vital. Such a plan is essential as we seek a continued revenue stream—provided by the System on a loan basis to be approved by the Board of Governors—for operational purposes for the next fiscal year.

Thank you for your continued leadership, Frank. If we are going to guarantee a long term future for the university and those to be served by it, it is essential that we move forward immediately with the critical components that I have outlined above.

I look forward to our next conversation.

Best regards,

Frank T. Brogan

Observations
Edinboro’s recruitment cycle, including marketing and outreach to both rising high school juniors and seniors, extends beyond 18 months. In its first year (fall 2014), the pilot was in effect too late in the recruitment cycle to have a significant impact on enrollment. For fall 2015, with the benefit of a full annual recruitment cycle to promote the new pricing, out-of-state deposits are up 50% compared to the prior year. Edinboro anticipates this trend will continue into fall 2016.

A. Purpose and Scope
   The purpose of this policy is to ensure compliance with Section 702 of the federal Veterans Access, Choice, and Accountability Act of 2014 (Choice Act) and other laws as adopted by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania regarding the charging of in-state tuition to qualified veterans and other covered individuals, such as spouses and dependents.

B. Policy
   In-state tuition shall be charged for programs of education for individuals who have been or will be eligible for benefits under the Post-9/11 GI Bill (Chapter 33 of Title 38 of the United States Code, which includes the Fry Scholarship) and the Montgomery GI Bill (Chapter 30 of Title 38 of the United States Code).

I. Introduction

Pennsylvania’s State System of Higher Education offers a wide variety of services to military members, veterans, their spouses, and dependents. Effective July 1, 2015, the Board of Governors approved charging in-state tuition for programs of education under the Post-9/11 GI Bill (Chapter 33 of Title 38 of the United States Code, which includes the Fry Scholarship) and the Montgomery GI Bill (Chapter 30 Title 38 of the United States Code) for eligible veterans and their dependents who are “covered individuals” in compliance with Section 702 of the Veterans Access, Choice, and Accountability Act of 2014 (Choice Act). See Board of Governors’ Policy 2015-xx: Veterans’ In-State Tuition Benefits, which permits the chancellor to establish procedures, standards, and guidelines in compliance with Section 702 of the Choice Act and Commonwealth law.

II. Definitions

A. Covered Individual

2. An individual (typically a spouse or child) using transferred benefits who lives in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (regardless of his/her formal state of residence) and enrolls in a State System university within three years of the transferor’s discharge from a period of active duty of 90 days or more.

3. An individual (typically a spouse or child) using benefits under the Marine Gunnery Sergeant David Fry Scholarship who lives in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (regardless of his/her formal state of residence) and enrolls in a State System university within three years of the service member’s death in the line of duty following a period of active duty service of 90 days or more.

B. III. Universities Shall Charge In-State Tuition for Covered Individuals

A. Beginning with terms that start after July 1, 2015, covered individuals who enroll in State System universities shall be charged in-state tuition and fees.

B. Covered individuals who are not veterans must use educational benefits until exhausted, with the exclusion of summer and winter sessions, in order to receive in-state tuition.

C. Students shall maintain status of a covered individual as long as they remain continually enrolled in any State System university in one or more programs, even if they have exhausted their educational benefits.

D. Covered individuals shall be eligible for in-state tuition and fees provided that the student lives in Pennsylvania on the first day of the semester or term, which can include student housing.

E. All covered individuals charged in-state tuition will be considered in-state for all other student billing purposes, enrollment reports by residency, and allocation formula calculations, and may be considered for institutional in-state financial aid. Universities must be able to track these students separately, as required by the System Research Office.

F. A veteran does not have to be using educational benefits in order to receive in-state tuition. Veteran active duty of 90 days or more for eligibility may be established based on one, or more than one, period of honorable qualifying active duty service, and qualifying service may be earned in the various branches of the armed forces and uniformed services.
IV. Documentation

A. Veterans shall provide the following:

2. A copy of the federal Veterans Affairs Certificate of Eligibility (COE) that establishes eligibility for veterans’ educational benefits.

3. Evidence that the veteran lives in Pennsylvania; however, there is no requirement that the veteran live in Pennsylvania for a specific amount of time in order to be eligible for in-state tuition and fees.
