

Emergency Planning, Response & Recovery

For Fire, Police, Emergency Management and other Governmental Departments

Today's emergency management professional anticipates anything and everything – all the while working to educate and inform community members on the importance of planning. Count on a local partner with a proven emergency management program to help you get your job done. Through our branches and nationwide networks, we're always at-the-ready... to fully support you in your planning, response and recovery efforts.

Planning

Selection of the right supplies in the correct quantities is imperative to assist the local community in response and recovery efforts. Tap into our years of experience in dealing with emergencies to help you with your planning efforts and contingency plans for Fire, Police, Emergency Management and other Governmental Departments. We can help ensure that emergency personnel have the right tools, equipment and supplies for any situation they may encounter. In addition, training may be provided to personnel on the proper use of these items.

We offer many different inventory options based on your particular needs. These options range from storing a pre-selected inventory of tools, equipment and supplies at a nearby Grainger location, to emergency trailers loaded with pre-selected items to be quickly dispatched into an impacted area.

Response

We're always available to help – just call 1-800-CALL-WWG (1-800-225-5994) when a situation arises in the middle of the night or on the weekend, and a representative from your local branch will work with you. Grainger can also develop specific response capabilities based upon the needs of your community. As a local partner, we work side by side with you through each of our branches. Examples of this have been when Grainger's national and local Crisis Management Team has activated the company's emergency support network in response to emergencies involving earthquakes, hurricanes, floods and September 11th.

Recovery

We are committed to helping local communities rebuild. After the emergency is over and it is time for recovery to begin, Grainger is there to help with disaster relief. As part of this, we donate products to non-profit organizations, such as the American Red Cross. Grainger is also a lead sponsor of the American Red Cross of Greater Chicago's "Ready When the Time Comes" Program, which trains employees as volunteers to help with disaster relief efforts. In addition, the Grainger Rebuilding America® Program was launched to contribute to communities affected by a disaster.
